CIELAP JOB OFFER

RESEARCH DIRECTOR

CIELAP is looking for an energetic individual with a strong understanding of the environmental public policy arena to develop and manage the Institute's Research Program as outlined in its current strategic plan. Reporting to the Executive Director, the Research Director will work with staff and the Research Committee of the Board to identify potential research projects, write proposals, get them funded, and ensure that they meet CIELAP's high quality standards. Necessary qualifications include: a graduate degree and professional experience in environmental public policy - added experience in environmental law, environmental sciences or a related field is an asset; demonstrated understanding of sustainability issues as they relate to Canada, Ontario, the Great Lakes ecosystem, Canadian and US government systems and the legislative/policy development process; report and proposal writing skills and experience; bilingual – English/French would be an asset.

Initially, a one to two day per week position, with the potential of it evolving into a full-time position.

Applications – résumé, covering letter and piece of professional research writing - should be submitted to the Hiring Committee at cielap@cielap.org by July 15th, 2005.
